EVOLUTION OF DELHI

Chronologically, if one takes into account the legendary INDEAPRASTHA of the Vedic times, DELHI can be as the oldest capital city in the world which has been inhabited on and off since 2,500 B.C. However the permanent occupation of Delhi dates from 323 A.D. When it was founded by ANANGAPALA, Chief of Tomara Clan. During 1320 to 1325, the founder of the Tughlakabad dynasty, GHAIBAS-UD-DIN TUGHLAQ, built the first fort, the RED FORT (H-6) some of the buildings built by the British upto middle of 19th Century still exist. These are METCALFE HOUSE (H-5) LUDOWIC CASTLE (H-1), ROBERTS HOUSE (H-2), CIVIL SECRETARIAL BUILDING (H-3), etc. The capital was renamed NEW DELHI by a Govt. of India notification of 31st December, 1926. Delhi today is one of the most beautiful metropoles of the world, and has been the venue of many important international programmes such as ASIAN GAMES, NAM, CHOGC etc.

The East India Company acquired DELHI after a military conquest by the British in 1803. In 1804, they built the first fort, the RED FORT (H-6) in Kishinori Gate and Darvazgar (H-6-7) some of the buildings built by the British upto middle of 19th Century still exist. These are METCALFE HOUSE (H-5) LUDOWIC CASTLE (H-1), ROBERTS HOUSE (H-2), CIVIL SECRETARIAL BUILDING (H-3), etc. The capital was renamed NEW DELHI by a Govt. of India notification of 31st December, 1926. Delhi today is one of the most beautiful metropoles of the world, and has been the venue of many important international programmes such as ASIAN GAMES, NAM, CHOGC etc.
